GRA General Residential and Agricultural District

RNC Residential Neighborhood Commercial District

The Land Use Map Series and all the notations, references, and other information shown thereon are a part of these Regulations as if such information set forth on the map series were all fully described and set out herein. This map properly attested is on file in the office of the Board of County Commissioners.

The boundaries of such districts as are shown upon the Land Use Map Series adopted as part of these Regulations or amendments thereto are hereby adopted and approved. Regulations governing the use of land and buildings, the height of buildings, building site areas, the sizes of yards about buildings and other matters are established and declared to be in effect upon all land included within the boundaries of each district shown upon the Land Use Map Series. Where uncertainty exists as the boundaries of any district shown on a map, the following rules shall apply:

Where a district boundary line divides a lot of record into equal sections, the more restrictive zoning classification shall regulate. If a lot of record is divided into unequal sections, the regulations shall be those applicable to the largest section.

Where any street or alley is officially vacated, the regulations applicable to each parcel of abutting property shall apply to that portion of such street or alley added to each parcel by such vacation.

Where a lot or parcel of land has an area or a width less than the minimum required in the land use district and was a separate lot of record as of adoption of this ordinance, the Enforcing Officer may vary area and yard requirements up to 50 percent without referring the matter to the Land Use Board of Adjustments.

Section 10 - Marine/Estaurine/Riverine Setback

Holmes County recognizes the importance of wetlands and areas of water-land interface in maintaining a healthy environment. The integrity of these sensitive areas will be protected by requiring shorelines to be retained in their natural state along with the banks of all marine, estaurine, and riverine systems to the extent possible. Section 10 is established to attain the following objectives:

- 1) prevent and/or reduce erosion
- 2) trap the sediment in overland run-off
- 3) protect indigenious wetlands flora, fauna, and habitat
- 4) retain and enhance physical and visual aesthetics of riverine systems.

In areas containing marine, estuarine, or riverine systems there shall be no new construction except docks, walkways, piers, and boathouses between Mean Sea Level (M.S.L.) established by the National Geodetic Vertical Datum of 1929 and an elevation of plus (+) 2.5 feet or within a minimum of 30 feet from the top of the generally recognized river or creek bank, during periods of Ordinary Low Water conditions, whichever is greater. These restrictions apply to all the unincorporated areas of Holmes County under the jurisdiction of the Board of County Commissioners which front on or are contiguous to all rivers and waterways within the unincorporated areas of the County. All applicable federal and state permits shall be obtained prior to issuance of a Land Use Certificate for construction fronting on or contiguous to these waters.

- 1) The following exceptions to the Marine/Estuarine/Riverine Setback (MERS) line are provided.
 - a. If the possibility exists that significant wetlands extend landward of the MERS line, as determined from either a Department of the Interior Wetlands Inventory Map or a copy of the most current Federal Emergency Management Agency Floodway Flood Boundary and Floodway Map, the applicant will be required to provide the County with a letter from the Department of Environmental Regulation indicating that no significant environmental impact will occur if a Land Use Certificate is granted.
 - b. If the applicant requests siting of a structure or conducting an activity prohibited by this Ordinance waterward of the MERS line by no more than 15 feet and the possibility exists that no wetlands or highly eroding lands are present between the MERS line and the water's edge, as determined by a Department of the Interior Wetlands Inventory Map or a copy of the most current Federal Emergency Management Agency Floodway Flood Boundary and Floodway Map, the applicant will be required to provide the County with a letter from the Department of Environmental Regulation indicating that no significant environmental impact will occur if a Land Use Certificate is granted.
- 2) The use of natural means, i.e. vegetation and beach renourishment, shall be used to stabilize erosion prone areas and shall be designed and implemented in accordance with sound environmental and engineering practice. Natural erosion control methods create a buffer zone providing for a greater change of natural recover, the normal progress of natural processes, and the entrapment of sediment laden waters.

- a. The vegetation used in erosion control methods shall be those indigenous to the region.
 - b. Site grading, excavating or other activities which significantly disturb the property shall not be allowed landward of the MERS line unless those activities are consistent with the intent of this ordinance and specifically authorized by a County permit.
 - c. Applicant are encouraged to place all structures, except those which are water dependent, as far landward of the MERS line as practical.
 - d. Enhancement or shore protection structures shall be placed as specified in subsection 3)b.2) below. If not specified, the location of the structure will be determined by a registered Professional Engineer knowledgeable in coastal processes or by guidelines established by the Army Corps of Engineers, "Shore Protection Manual" and shall be consistent with the provisions of this subsection.
- 3) The use of seawalls, bulkheads, groins, and similar structures (interchangeably referred to as rigid shore protection structures) shall not be permitted except where otherwise stated in this Ordinance. The use of rigid shore protection structures may cause significant environmental impacts. These impacts can result in increased overland runoff, loss of valuable topsoil, increased water turbidity, loss of wildlife habitat, and the loss of the natural amenity associated with shoreline areas. If available engineering data indicates that rip-rap, sloping revetments, short groins, sills, and other enhancement structure methods in combination with revegetation, are the only effective means to protect an area, and all state and federal permits are obtained, the proposed device will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis with a variance required from the Board of County Commissioners. Where applicable, the decision to grant a variance shall be based on guidelines established by the Army Corps of Engineers, "Shore Protection Manual" or data provided by a registered Professional Engineer knowledgeable in hydrological processes, the choice of which is at the sole discretion of the County Commissioners.

Upon the granting of a variance the approved structure will be subject to a trial period of 360 days. The structures and measures shall comply with appropriate state and federal regulations and cause no significant adverse impact to the adjacent or downdrift property owners or to the environment. If state and federal permits are not required, the appropriate agencies shall be notified of the request.

- a. Where there exists a continuous and uniform line of rigid shore protection structures adjoining each side of the proposed rigid shore protection structure and clear deleterious effects are demonstrated as a result of the location of the adjacent existing structures, the proposed structure may be authorized along an alignment which closes the gap between the adjoining rigid protection structure to limit the physical impact to the property from those structures.
- b. Construction of rigid shore protection structures designed primarily to protect minor structures (as defined by Chapter 16B-33, F.A.C.) or nonhabitable major structures shall not be permitted. Excluded from this prohibition are structures which are designed to protect major public roads, highways, water or sewage treatment plants, or public power facilities.
 - 1) In these instances in which a rigid protection structure is the only feasible means of protecting an existing habitable major structure, major public road, highway, water or sewage treatment plant, or public power facility, the rigid coastal protection structure shall be located as far landward as possible, consistent with design and construction requirements.

- 2) Proposed rigid shore protection structures shall be designed to minimize erosive and scour effects. Sloping rock revetments, rubble mound structures, and toe-scour protection are required in front of vertical bulkheads and seawalls.
- c. A property with frontal coverage of a rigid shore protection structure, except those specified in 3)b.1) may have the length of the protection structure limited in order to minimize adverse impacts to adjacent property not protected by rigid coastal protection structures. The owner of a proposed rigid shore protection structure shall protect the ends of the structure according to sound hydrological engineering practice.
- d. The selection of material and design of revetments, rubble mounds or similar structures shall be based on guidelines established by the Army Corps of Engineers, "Shore Protection Manual".
- 4) The repair of an existing functional shore protection structure shall be exempted from the setback of this Ordinance. Repair is defined as the mending of a structure in which no more than fifty percent of the structure requires replacement. Prior to the repair of any shore protection structure, the property owner must notify the County of the intended work, the extent of the work contemplated, notify all appropriate state and federal agencies, and meet all state and federal regulations.
 - a. If more than fifty percent of a shore protection structure must be replaced, the provisions of this Ordinance shall apply.
 - b. An abandoned seawall or bulkheading shall be removed by the owner within a reasonable period of time as specified by the County Building Official.
- 5) Section 10 shall not be construed as to prevent the doing of any act necessary to prevent material harm to or destruction of real or personal property as a result of a present emergency (as defined by Chapter 16B-33, F.A.C.) and the necessity of obtaining a permit is impractical and would cause undue hardship in the protection of life and property.

- a. A report of any such emergency action shall be made to the County Building Official or County Engineer by the owner or person in control of the property upon which emergency action was taken as soon as practicable, but no more than ten calendar days following such action. Remedial action may be required by the County Building Official or County Engineer subject to appeal to a Board of County Commissioners in the event of a dispute.
- 6) The Board of Adjustment (BOA), as established by Holmes County, shall hear and make recommendations to the Board of County Commissioners who shall decide appeals and requests for variance from the requirements of this Section as provided for by Article VIII of this Ordinance.

 - (a) Ingress and egress to property and proposed structures thereon with particular reference to automotive and pedestrian safety and convenience, traffic flow and control, and access in case of fire or catastrophe.

Variances

The Board of County Commissioners may impose such conditions and restrictions upon the premises benefited by a variance as may be necessary to prevent injurious effects upon other property in the neighborhood and to better carry out the general intent of this Ordinance.

- 1) Conditions. No variance in the application in the provisions of this Ordinance shall be made or granted by the Board of County Commissioners unless said Board shall find:

- (a) That there are exceptional circumstances or conditions applicable to the property that do not apply generally to other property in the same vicinity and District.
 - (b) That such variance is necessary for the preservation and enjoyment of a substantial property right possessed by other property in the same vicinity and District, but which is denied to the property in the request.
 - (c) That the granting of such variance will not be injurious to the property or improvements in such vicinity and District in which the property in question is located or otherwise detrimental to the public welfare.
- 2) The Board of County Commissioners shall make findings that the requirements above have been met by the applicant for variance.
 - 3) The Board of County Commissioner shall further make a finding that the reasons set forth in the application justify the granting of a variance, and that the variance is the minimum variance that will make possible the use of land, building, or structure.
 - 4) Notification: The Board of County Commissioners shall, within 15 days of the date of decision, send to the person or entity requesting the variance notification of the actions and the finding of fact upon which action was taken.

Appeals
